What's Cooking?

We are featuring recipes from the Bicentennial Cookbook in each newsletter. This edition's feature is from Ray Albino (Page 27)

Ray Albino's Meatballs

1 lb. ground beef (chuck)
½ lb. ground pork
½ lb. veal (a basic meatloaf mix is about the same)
Eggs
Chopped garlic

Chopped onion
Fresh parsley
Italian breadcrumbs
Italian bread
Olive oil

Soak bread in milk, squeeze and mix with meat, eggs, garlic, onion, and parsley. Make the size meatballs desired. Coat meatballs with breadcrumbs and brown in frying pan with the oil. Bake in oven until done.

There are many ideas on the type of meat and the ratio of the mix; ground chuck has the best ratio of lean and fat. You can skip the veal, if needed, but the pork is a must for good, moist meatballs. Using the soaked bread rather than breadcrumbs make the meatballs softer and juicier.

History in the Making

Town Historian, Mary Palazzolo & Deputy Historian, Chris Dwon are hoping to expand our Story Chive Library. Tell your story about your childhood, family life and places where you lived. It's a wonderful way to preserve the great History of our Town. Please contact Mary Palazzolo at 518 989 6476 at ext. 16 and leave a message or Email Lexingtonnyhistorian@hotmail.com

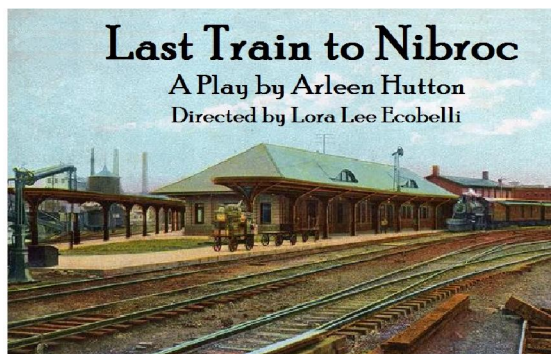

Technology Updating in the Countryside

We will have nearly complete fiber optic coverage in the Town of Lexington by the end of 2019. Round 2 that was approved for MTC includes the hamlet of Lexington, Airport Road, County Route 13, a Jewett extension, and Spruceton Road, along with the connector links along 23A and Route 42 is expected to be completed by the end of 2018.

Round 3 Awards for the New York Broadband public – private partnership grant program allows for MTC's application to cover 513 additional homes in Lexington using state and federal dollars. Round 3 adds to the over 400 homes passed awarded in Round 2 competition and also has a 2-year completion window.

MTC had additional good news concerning the company itself. On the same day that they received their Broadband Round 3 Award announcement, they also formally became a majority employee owned company. This means MTC has a full commitment to its rural roots. They will remain in the area and are as invested in success as we are. For updates go to: <https://www.lexingtonbroadband.org/>

Kaaterskill Actors Theater

West Kill resident and NYC Director, Jim Milton, has been producing performances for the local theaters productions for 5 years now. Be sure to see one of the 6 performances at the Doctorow Center for Performing Arts in Hunter.

Performance times are May 4th, 5th, 11th, and 12th at 7:00 PM and Sundays May 6th and May 13th at 2:00 PM. You'll have the pleasure of seeing the latest production by the Kaaterskill Actors Theater, Last Train to Nibroc, a play by Arleen Hutton. Lora Lee Ecobelli has been acting in productions with several other local actors and will now be directing this year's May show.

Filled with humor and pathos, this fierce and funny play is sure to touch the hearts of everyone who sees it. Set in December 1940 on a cross country train carrying the bodies of great American writers, F. Scott Fitzgerald and Nathaniel West, you'll get acquainted with May and Raleigh. As they travel you'll see sparks fly, feelings get bruised and the prospect of war shadows everything as they each head to their separate destinations. For more information visit KATactors.com

Know Your Neighbor

Kim McGalliard lives in West Kill and recently opened a restaurant located at 7722 Main St. in Hunter. Perhaps you've heard of it – Jägerberg Beer Hall & Alpine Tavern? Kim tells me they are open Thursday – Sunday from 3:00 PM to 10:00 PM. Sunday April 1st they are serving an Easter Brunch from 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM.

Jägerberg is a Beer Hall & Alpine Tavern that is now serving German style beer and locally sourced Alpine food. Check out their fabulous menu on their website: Jagerberghall.com, Follow them on Facebook, or call 518-628-5188.

Patriots' Day Celebration

Saturday April 21, 2018 the Patriots' Day Celebration will be held at the West Kill – Lexington Community Hall. Bring a dish to share at this pot luck dinner and stay to enjoy the guest speakers. Sponsored by the Lexington Historical Society. For more information call 518-989-6813.

Maple Brunch

Hosted by the West Kill Lexington Community Improvement Association and held in the Community Hall on Spruceton Rd. Serving a delectable combination of breakfast and lunch made from special homemade recipes and local maple syrup products. We would love for you to come celebrate the beginning of the Spring Season with us on April 29, 2018. Maybe you have a special recipe to share? Time and costs will be available soon, check on happenings page on the Town of Lexington website. For more information call 518-989-6813.

West Kill - Lexington Community Improvement Association

The annual Thunder in the Mountains Car Show, is held on July 28th on the lawn of the Lexington Municipal Building. This event is the most important fundraiser of the year for the WLCIA. Last year this was a huge success thanks to A LOT of volunteers and the guidance of Tina & Ray Albino, Glenn Howard and their crew. Association members are asking for any help, that anyone can give. Volunteers are needed in advance, as well as the day of the car show. To volunteer or donate goods, services, or gift certificates for the Chinese Auction please call Mary at 518-989-6813

WAJPL Golden Agers

in the Windham Town Hall, Route 296 in Hensonville.

Mountaintop Golden Agers

Meetings are held on the 4th Thursday of each month, 1:30 PM in the Tannersville Village Hall on Main St.

Do you know that....?

Steve Foreman is your neighbor, a 34-year resident of West Kill. He has written movies, "The Jazz Singer" with Sir Laurence Olivier and Neil Diamond, "Hostage" with Carol Burnett and Annette Benning, and documentaries, "America the Beautiful", ABC, with President H. W. Bush. "Journey" is his third novel. "Toehold" was his first. "Watching Gideon" his second.

*You can purchase it on Amazon or through your local bookstore –
Hunter & Woodstock (The Golden Notebook).*

It's a great read, and I'd be happy to sign it for you.

BOOK CLUBS WELCOME.

Here are Two Reviews:

- I love this novel. It is brutal, beautiful and honest in its depictions of injustice and inhumanity, and wise and empathetic in its belief in the human spirit. It delves deep into the inner landscapes of the characters, both the victimized and good and the cruel and predatory, all with precise, gorgeous prose that still lets the story sing and characters live and breath. Wrenching and memorable. Eric Rickstad, author of Reap, The Names Of Dead Girls, The Silent Girls, etc.
- "Journey, set in the American West before the Civil War, tells the vivid story of three people who struggle to make lives in a still raw and brutal country: Journey is an astonishingly capable sixteen year old whose background is a mystery and who seems to have been all but born on horseback; Reuben Moon, part Mexican and part Apache, a tracker and a hunter who carries within him the gifts of the mountains and the woods and may also be Journey's father; and Esau Burdock, a wealthy slave trader who was born poor and didn't forget it. The land was rich with wild food and wilder animals, including a mountain lion as vivid as Journey herself. The book's considerable power comes from Foreman's deep understanding of an America two hundred years ago, run on a slave economy. This is a first-rate American novel with haunting characters in the spirit of Larry McMurtry."—David Freeman, screenwriter, is also the author of A Hollywood Education, One of Us, It's All True, and other books

Enjoy!

Comment on the Newsletter

I enjoyed, and it was a pleasure to read the September Lexington Newsletter, greatly appreciated. Thank you. I grew up in North Lexington, I have not been back in many years, it was great to read about all the events taking place, it takes a community coming together making things happen. God bless you all. - Pat VanEtten Baresel.
